Subject: Parent Workshops

Date: January 9, 2012

The Parent Resource Center has planned several workshops for parents during the winter/spring semester of the 2011-2012 school year. As you may be aware, a primary goal of the Parent Resource Center is to encourage active parental involvement and to promote a partnership between parents and educators. One method of achieving this goal is to provide various workshops. Most of the workshops are specifically designed for parents; however, Sibshops are offered for siblings of students with special needs.
